

TRAILER COUPLING FOR A WORK VEHICLE

Abstract of the Disclosure

A trailer coupling for an agricultural or industrial vehicle includes two guide rails which extend vertical and parallel to each other. A support is slidingly received by horizontal extending guide grooves in the guide rails. Different couplers can be mounted on and exchanged on the support. The support may be inserted into the guides or removed from the guides.